

Penelope Amaya is a 7th-grade student from Queens. She participates in her school's STEM club, track/cross country team and is a member of the stage crew for the annual drama performance. She is a long time Girl Scout and loves her troop. In addition, she has been attending art school since the age of seven where she is learning how to draw and paint in the classical style. She enjoys drawing, photography, writing, and STEM activities. Penelope is a big sister who enjoys sharing her knowledge and experiences with her sister and brother. She has enjoyed Tools & Tiara workshops this year – especially welding - and she looks forward to construction camp this summer.
