

Latonia Tripp is an accomplished professional and community leader, excelling both as a Local One Plumber with 18 years of service and as a dedicated advocate for her community. She has mastered her trade while transforming her role into one of deeper purpose, becoming a “plumber of people” by connecting with and uplifting those around her.

In addition to her professional achievements, Latonia is a devoted wife and mother of four. Her leadership shines through in all aspects of her life—whether coaching basketball, serving as PTA president and vice president, or contributing to her community in various other ways. A certified chef with a culinary degree, Latonia is also pursuing certification in Nutritional Health & Wellness, bringing her passion for health and empowerment to the forefront.

Latonia has broken barriers in the male-dominated plumbing industry and now advocates for women and girls to follow in her footsteps through her work with Tools & Tiaras Inc. She is a passionate mentor, dedicated to helping others reach their full potential by nurturing both their minds and souls, living by her favorite motto: “Not only can I feed your mind, but I can feed your soul too.”

Her commitment to education, empowerment, and community continues to inspire those around her as she integrates her love for people and holistic well-being into every facet of her life.
